Qosmedix Glass Sampler with Roller Ball

Edgewood, N.Y., August 19, 2005-- Qosmedix® is excited to introduce a 1ml glass bottle with stainless steel roller ball and lined threaded cap, perfect for new product launches and in-store promotions. This attractive petite package contains just enough liquid to entice customers to purchase a full-sized bottle of your perfumes, colognes, eau de toilettes or oils.

This clear glass bottle (#29876) is compatible with many types of products and allows its contents to be visible. The stainless steel roller ball with polyethylene housing (#29877) does not clog or rust. A secure black polypropylene threaded cap with polyethylene liner (#29878) prevents leaking and evaporation. Please contact a Customer Specialist about custom cap colors and alternative roller ball materials.
